50th ANNIVERSARY PLANS

GOV. TENER PROPERLY DISPOSES OF UNIFORM TROUBLE.

Gen. Wagner Chairman of Commission Takes a Slap at Gettysburg and its Citizens.

The Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission met in Philadelphia last week. With them were representatives of about half the States and communications were said to have been received from all definitely telling of participation in the celebration. The Grand Army of the Republic and Confederate Veterans were represented at the meeting. Dr. J. A. Singmaster was present, representing the Citizens' Committee of which he is chairman and also the Town Council Committee, of which he is a member. Dr. W. A. Granville, president of Gettysburg College, was also present, and J. D. Keith, a member of the Town Council Committee was in attendance.

The sessions were held at the Union League, the first conference being held on Thursday afternoon when the reports of the officers of the United States detailed to prepare plans were made. The plans formulated by Major James E. Normoyle and Captain H. F. Dalton have been approved by the Secretary of War. According to these plans the camp will consist of 5300 tents located on 276 acres which have been leased. 5000 of these tents will be of the large circular type with a capacity of providing for 40,000 people. The 300 additional tents will be kitchen tents and for the help. In addition there will be complete divisional hospital and three fully equipped infirmaries. Captain Dalton personally reported that work on sinking wells to provide water for the great camp will begin at once and the assurance was given that nothing would be left undone to insure the care and health of 40,000 veterans during the four day stay on the field.

A number of the city newspapers printed confusing details of the U. S. Camps, giving as many as 40,000 tents and another 34,000 tents, but at the U. S. Army headquarters here 5300 is given as the correct number, full provision for but 40,000 men.

Prior to the meeting of the commission an interview was given in Philadelphia in which the following program of public exercises for the four days was announced but from the published accounts it does not appear that this program was finally and definitely determined upon.

The first day to be known as Veterans' Day. In it all surviving soldiers of the Civil War, North and South, shall be requested to take part as invited guests, under the direction of the commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, that of the United Confederate Veterans, and under such order as these officers in connection with the commission may direct the United States flag only to appear.

The second day to be known as Military Day, and to be under the command of the chief of staff of the United States Army. Special detachments of each branch of the army to be detailed by the Secretary of War; and representatives of the National Guards of the States to be chosen and invited for merit. Each command to have present a military band, and the evolutions of the day to be determined by the commission in consultation with the army officers in command.

The third day to be known as Civic Day, and to be under the personal supervision of the Governor of Pennsylvania. The participants to be the Governors of the several States, their staffs and the general public. A great chorus of voices from the leading choral societies of the country, supported by the military bands, to furnish the music. Exercises to be held morning, afternoon and evening in the rotunda. Appropriate orations to be delivered at the earlier services and a sermon to be given in the evening, recognizing the Divine Providence in the rise and progress of the Republic.

The fourth day to be known as National Day, at which the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court shall preside, and the President, Vice President, the Cabinet, the Justices of the Supreme Court, the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Congressional Committee shall be the guests of honor. At 10 o'clock A. M. a great mass-meeting shall be held at the rotunda, at which prayer shall be offered, singing by the chorus and people shall be rendered, and an oration shall be delivered by the President of the United States. At high-noon the cornerstone of the Peace Memorial shall be laid by the President, which act shall conclude the official exercises.

On Thursday evening there was an informal set-aquainted conference and the question of uniforms was discussed, the chairman being unable to cope with the situation and allowing it to reach such proportions until on Friday morning Governor Tener had to interfere and settle what was a useless and inopportune discussion.

Col. Charles Burrows of New Jersey, a Union veteran, on Thursday evening proposed a rule that no military uniforms be worn at the celebration by survivors of either army.

General Felix H. Robertson of Texas and a member of the United Confederate Veterans, plead for the privilege of wearing the grey uniform because the Gettysburg reunion was not to celebrate a victory but to celebrate peace, and among other things said:

"We old soldiers are very much alike the world over, and we are given to delusions. One of these delusions is we have made peace. We have not made peace, our children have made it.

"We don't want war again. If we had a war now I'd be fighting my own children. A Yankee from Indiana came down in Texas a few years ago and married my daughter, and they're living in Indiana. I'd have to fight against my daughter's husband and if we had war to-day.

"We quit fighting because we thought it was a damn hopeless job. When I quit, why, you were kind enough to quit too. I tried my very best to get out of the Union, but you wouldn't let me. Now that I am in, I want all the privileges that the country allows; I want the best that's coming to me.

"I love the confederate gray. If I can get enough nerve to wear it on July 4, I want to wear it. There's a lot of men down our way who want the same privilege. I know there's no harm in a blue coat, and you ought to know there's no harm in an old gray jacket.

"If you're going to celebrate a victory, all right, keep away the gray coats; but if you're going to celebrate peace, why we helped to make it."

Sergeant John C. Scarborough of North Carolina, declared that he was going to Gettysburg in July without his uniform but plead for those who wanted to wear the gray as a matter of sentiment, closing by saying, "We are all winners now. I'm one of the children of this government. I love the flag of the United States as much as any who ever carried it."

Every one seems to have forgotten that at the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg there was a reunion of the Blue and the Gray and there was quite a sprinkling of gray that gave no offense. The chairman of the commission instead of trying to find some way out of the difficulty added fuel to the flame by a display of impoliteness and discourtesy by ordering the Secretary to record his objection on the minutes of the conference to the sprinkling of "damns" in the remarks of General Robertson.

But Governor Tener was equal to the occasion and administered a rebuke to the head of the commission.

"I want it well understood by the whole confederate soldiery," the Governor said, "that you are coming as guests of the State of which I have the honor to be the Chief Executive, and it will make no difference to him or the State whether the man from the South comes in civilian attire or wears the old gray uniform."

"You will be as heartily welcome at Gettysburg as the man in blue, even if you come in the old gray uniform which you wore at Gettysburg 50 years ago," the Governor said.

"Whether the uniform be of blue or gray, the wearer will be heartily welcome. No one has greater admiration for the Confederate soldier and for the superb manner in which he fought his battles than I have. As Pennsylvania is the host, all that need concern you as representatives of the several States is the bringing of your veteran soldiers here. Pennsylvania will do the rest, and we hope our guests will enjoy the occasion as much as will the host."

The warmth with which the Governor spoke carried sincerity. The conference gave vent to its approval of the sentiment in unmistakable applause.

Governor Tener further rebuked General Wagner in the matter of his discourtesy about recording an objection to General Robertson's swear words, by telling the latter to "Come to Harrisburg and swear as much as you please."

General Robertson got one in on Chairman Wagner on the matter of his use of the word damn by apologizing profusely. He evoked a round of applause, however, by reciting an incident, the circumstances of a previous lapse into profanity.

"On that occasion," he said, "I used the same expression in the presence of a chaplain of the United States Army. I did not know he was a clergyman until after I had spoken. When I learned his identity I at once went to him and offered my apologies, but he said: 'Don't apologize to me; apologize to the Almighty.'"

General Wagner was censured a third time by the Governor for insisting upon a motion to ~~repeal~~ although veterans were on their feet wishing to speak.

There were several conferences on Friday before the meeting closed that evening with an elaborate banquet at the Union League. Some of the matters considered at the conferences on Friday are gathered from newspaper reports as follows:

The Trunk Line Association was reported by Secretary Beidler as refusing to make any great reduction on their rates of fare during the encampment. A reduction of only two-fifths of the regular rate has been obtained, he said, while a much larger reduction has been allowed the National Cannery Association, which will hold its annual convention next month in Louisville, Ky. Several conferences have been held with the Trunk Line officials, he said, but they will not recede from their original stand in naming the rate. If the head of the commission treated the Trunk Line Association as he has everyone else, the result is not surprising, and his criticising report looks more like a reflection upon his methods than the Trunk Line Association.

As soon as President Wilson is inaugurated a committee of the Commission will call upon him and invite him to the encampment, it was announced. The President-elect has already signified his intention of accepting, but the formal invitation will not be made until after the inauguration. President Taft has already accepted an invitation, it was announced, while more than a score of Governors have expressed a desire to be present at the encampment.

It developed at the conference that so great had been the number of applications received from Posts of the U. A. R. and U. C. V. that already nearly 40,000 veterans have asked permission to attend. The States appropriating money so far are New York State $275,000, Vermont $10,000, New Jersey $20,000, Massachusetts $2,000, and Maryland $2,000, and it is expected that many other States will make appropriations at an early date. Few of the Southern States will make appropriations. General Walker, commander of the United Confederate Veterans said that there would be at least 3500 Confederate veterans here. It was reported that Oklahoma would send 63 Union veterans and 53 Confederate veterans and could be expected to be represented at the celebration "5000 strong." One veteran from far away Alaska sent word that he would answer roll call at Gettysburg in July. Arizona reported five, Arkansas and Colorado 100 each, Iowa 200. Governor of Utah has recommended a $10,000 bill for its veterans and Ohio is considering a $12,000 bill and West Virginia $2,000 to $5,000, Minnesota a bill for $25,000 to bring 350 veterans.

At the conclusion of the roll of States it was stated that it was feared for a time that the number would have to be restricted to those who actually engaged in the battle but it is now considered likely that all those who fought in the war will be invited to go to Gettysburg.

The invitation of Gettysburg College and the Lutheran Seminary here were reported, buildings to be used to entertain President and Mrs. Wilson, Governor and Mrs. Tener, President Wilson's cabinet, Governors from every State, Diplomatic Corps and other distinguished guests.

Captain William E. Miller of Carlisle, and Colonel Lewis E. Beidler, field secretary of the commission, were appointed to visit Gettysburg to examine the college properties, with regard to their availability for use during the celebration.

Dr. Singmaster, representing the Lutheran Seminary, said that quarters for 100 persons can be provided in that institution, while Dr. William A. Granville, president of the Pennsylvania College, declared that he can provide quarters for 250 persons.

General Wagner, the chairman of the Commission seems to have a bad case of dislike of Gettysburg and its citizens and when the questions effecting Gettysburg came up for consideration he went out of his way to take a fling at the town.

There were estimates that the army of visitors would reach 200,000 and Dr. J. A. Singmaster, chairman of the Citizens' Committee, having accurate and reliable data told the Commission that the town was preparing for 15,000 persons, that several hotels had received upwards of 1700 requests for reservation much more than the capacity of the hotels. He said the people of Gettysburg would treat the visitors fairly, the hotel rates would only be raised 50 cents a day and that accommodations to the limit of the town can be had at $1.50 and $2.00 a day, but what was to become of visitors beyond the 15,000 limit of the town was a question for the Commission.

General Wagner, while Dr. Singmaster was talking, hurled an insult at the people of Gettysburg by declaring that they were neither patriotic nor progressive enough to sacrifice a little to make the celebration a success.

When Dr. Singmaster said there were a number of buildings in town like Court House, school houses, etc., that could be converted into sleeping quarters if 5,000 cots would be provided for the purpose he was interrupted by General Wagner shouting "Get the money and put the buildings in shape."

General Wagner again declared that the Commission has no funds that it can apply to the relief of the expected congestion of Gettysburg. Governor Tener, he said is friendly to an additional appropriation but he (Wagner) thought Gettysburg would get none of it, that the town must do for its visitors what the government, the States and the Commission are doing for the veterans. General Wagner brought the discussion to an end by declaring that the Commission will take up the subject later.

Later the Commission agreed to furnish the town with an equipped hospital during the celebration, a large detail of State Police and lavatories. It developed at the banquet at the Union League that the National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will be held the week following the Gettysburg celebration in either Philadelphia or Brooklyn and General Wagner said that if it is held in Philadelphia the Legislature will be asked to appropriate $25,000. According to General Wagner the great City of Brotherly Love with a population of one million and a half, with merchant princes worth their millions and with hundreds of business men of great wealth, would not be able to take care of a G. A. R. National Encampment bringing 50,000 people to that city, without State help of $25,000; while Gettysburg with a population of 10,000 by the last census must take care of four or five times the number of a G. A. R. national encampment without any help whatever. As Philadelphia is 400 times larger than Gettysburg and later is expected to take care outside of the U. S. Camp, of four times the number of visitors as would attend the G. A. R. encampment, then on the same basis as it is proposed to take care of Philadelphia the State of Pennsylvania should set aside for Gettysburg forty million dollars. Gettysburg is only asking some reasonable help, but the above proposition shows how absurd General Wagner is.

JANUARY COURT BEGINS

SEVERAL CRIMINAL CASES HAVE BEEN TRIED.

Carson Valentine is on Trial for Adultery with a White Woman.

The regular January Court convened on Monday of this week, President Judge S. McC. Swope and Associate Judges W. Howard Dicks and Leo A. Sneeberger on the Bench.

The constables were first called, sworn and made the following returns. In Hamilton township a bad piece of road was reported, gutters not open and no drainage and road bed too low.

In Huntington township a hand board was reported down at Rock Chapel at intersection with State road.

In Oxford township a slot machine was reported on premises of Walter Small, proprietor of Valley View Hotel.

In Butler township the Carlisle road at Geo. Wagner's was reported in bad condition. The foot bridge was down at public road crossing Conewago Creek at Boyer's Rake Factory.

In Reading township there was an accompanying petition for a bridge at Hoover's School House.

In Cumberland township roads were in bad condition, owing to open winter, wet weather and heavy hauling.

In Liberty township roads were bad on account of recent rains.

In Hamilton township the Cold Spring road was reported generally in bad condition and a petition accompanying asking that the proper officials be compelled to make roads passable. Process was awarded for the Supervisors of the township.

Six bastards were reported born, one in Tyrone, mother Linda Haverstock, reputed father John Shultz; one in Latimore, mother Mabel E. Griest, reputed father Floyd Crook and process was awarded for his arrest; one in Reading township, mother Mable Bosserman, father not given; one in Franklin, mother Lucretia Bingham, reputed father James Shultz; one in East Berlin, mother Georgia Chronister, father unknown, and process was awarded for the mother; one in Highland township, mother Elsie Lauver, reputed father Ira Williams, and process was awarded for arrest of latter.

The Grand Jury next called and sworn and Hon. S. S. Mehring was appointed foreman. The Grand Jury acted upon seven bills as follows:

Com. vs. Kate Myers, assault on battery, a true bill.

Com. vs. Elmer Toddes, Chas. Trimmer and Mrs. Jacob Darr, selling liquor to minor not a true bill as to Trimmer and a true bill as to Toddes and Mrs. Darr. They entered plea of nolle contendere.

Com. vs. George Behr, fornication and bastardy, a true bill.

Com. vs. Mack Clay, assault and battery, a true bill.

Com. vs. Glensory Snowden assault and battery, a true bill and defendant plead guilty and was sentenced to pay the costs and put on parole for good behavior for one year.

Com. vs. Chas. Brown assault on battery, a true bill and defendant plead guilty.

Com. vs. Ben Starner, assault with intent to ravish, a true bill.

The Court appointed Constables J. L. Group and Wm. O. Anderson as tipstaves for the week of court.

Trials.

The first case tried was that of Com. vs. Kate Myers on charge of assault and battery on information of Lewis Cleave. It was quickly disposed of and jury brought in a verdict of guilty.

The case of Com. vs. Elmer Toddes and Mrs. Jacob Darr, selling liquor to minor, was started but came to an end by defendants entering plea that they made no contention against the charge.

On Tuesday morning the trial of case of Carson Valentine, colored, on charge of adultery with Ella Cook, a white woman. District Attorney Wible in opening to the jury said that the case was one that had been receiving the condemnation of the good people of the town for several years. The woman had been occupying the same house with defendant on Long Lane. A colored man was put on stand as a witness for Commonwealth who said he had been invited to the house by Valentine and there was drinking and that Valentine and the woman occupied a room in the house. The testimony while brief was sufficient to convince the jury that they brought in a verdict of guilty.

The following cases were not prosecuted:

Com. vs. John Fissel, assault, the Court closed case with order that the county pay officers' costs.

Com. vs. Mary Yingling, surety of peace, defendant being a woman in delicate health and having left country was released in her own recognizance.

Com. vs. Spangler Hetrick, returned on charge of Paul Chronister of finding a watch, plowing it up and refused to give up unless his bill of repairs was paid, was not pressed for reason that there were no facts to justify a conviction.

Com. vs. Chester Shoemaker was not pressed, not sufficient testimony to convict.

Com. vs. Wm. Fuller, on information of Bertha M. Alwine, case settled.

Com. vs. Harry Barnes, assault on oath of Daniel Johnson, settled.

Com. vs. John Shultz on charge preferred by Geo. R. Haverstock, settled.

The three cases on the trial list of civil cases were continued and court adjourned Tuesday morning until Saturday.

At the session of Court on Saturday last, all the judges being present, business was transacted as follows.

Mrs. Sophia Fohl of Monaca township, who had been adjudged of weak mind in 1897, and her husband being appointed her guardian, upon motion being made, that she had been restored to her right mind, a decree was made to that effect. She is now 62 years of age.

The sales of real estate of Mrs. Samuel L. Johns, by J. L. Williams, Esq., assignee, were confirmed nisi.

Robert Anderson, who was charged with assault and battery committed on January 1, on Wm. F. Kuhn, Esq., a police officer of East Berlin, was called up, and on petition of Town Council of East Berlin a settlement of the case was allowed, upon payment of costs by defendant.

James Brown plead guilty to assault and battery on Joseph E. Huff near Bittingers Station, and was sentenced to jail for one month.

I. M. Reinecker was appointed guardian of the persons of his brothers, Paxton and Charles C. Reinecker, minor children under fourteen, of Samuel Reinecker, late of Butler township deceased.

The Citizens' Trust Company of Gettysburg guardian of Elizabeth B. and Fred M. Hiltbrich, minor children of Luther H. Hiltbrich, deceased, obtained an order for the payment of the interest of the funds of the minors, to their mother, Margaret Hiltbrich, of Littlestown, for their maintenance.

A subpoena in divorce was issued on the libel of Ambrose T. Noel of Biglerville, against his wife, Margaret C. Noel, who departed to Virginia some years ago.

All the Register's accounts were confirmed.

The civil trial list was an unusually short one for the January term, there being but three cases on it, the first, Charles E. Wills vs. James P. Stem, being discontinued; the case of the First National Bank of York, Pa., vs. Eliza J. Warren, an appeal from the docket of Reiley S. Harniss, J. P., being continued, leaving the only remaining case of John E. C. Miller vs. James McClain Gilbert, for trial on Tuesday.

Fine Entertainment.

An excellent musical show was presented by local talent under the auspices of the Episcopal Guild at the Wizard Theatre on last Friday and Saturday evenings. The rehearsals were under the direction of Miss Leonhardt, of New York. "The Merry Travelers" delighted the large audience and largely consisted of singing, choruses, picturesque scenes and movements.

The opening choruses, made up of the small children, captivated the audience. Little Helen Tennant with 75 little girls in white led in the song "Cry Baby." Jeanne Heindel and Lucile Bender with 80 little girls in red and white led the "Barn Dance" to the delight of every one. Wilbur McClain and Jacob Shmukler and chorus of little boys made a hit as "Tramps" and H. C. F. Walter and chorus presented as a specialty "Uncle Joe."

"The Merry Travelers" was presented in three acts and was good the whole way through, many of the scenes being most picturesquely presented and encored, the following being the acts and scenes:

Act I. Scene—Hotel in Paris.

Special music and choruses.

Drummer O. K. Reed and chorus. College

Royden Robinson and chorus. Gibson J. M. Hepler and chorus.

Looking for a Nice Young Fellow J. M. Hepler and chorus

You Can't Live Without a Girl Calvin Lang and chorus.

Special—I'm Married C. H. Steel

Act II. Scene—Garden in Spain.

Special music and choruses.

Sweetheart Mr. Wray and chorus.

Cowboys Ethel Zinkaud and chorus.

Jolly Bachelors Mrs. Ziun and chorus.

Act III. Scene—Carnival Grounds in United States.

Farmer Mr. Lantz and chorus.

Air-ship Miss Pauline Rudisil, Calvin Lang and chorus.

Grand Finale.

See Saw, Miss Lillian Ring & chorus

Band Fair and Festival.

The Fair and Festival of the Citizens' Band of this place will start this Wednesday evening, Jan. 29, and continue every evening until Saturday evening, Feb. 1.

Have you taken a look in the new National Garage of D. J. Forney. It's a dandy place for a Fair and Festival. Think of 8,000 square feet available for the purpose. There will be no crowding and in the big room the Band music will just sound all right. The Band will give concerts each night and free to every one for the coming.

Suppers will be served each evening. There will be chicken and waffle suppers, oysters in all styles. Come along and all the money you will spend will come back for it will go to help to pay for the making of a better Band.

For Sale—At great sacrifice, a double lensed stereopticon with moving picture attachment.

Attempted Robbery at Hampton.

About 11.30 o'clock last Wednesday night an attempt was made to enter the home of Dr. D. H. Leh at Hampton. Mrs. Leh heard a noise about the yard and house and for a time thought it was the hostler. Later she heard the would-be robbers working at one of the stable end windows and then called her husband who was fast asleep. The doctor arose, struck a light, and while loading his gun the intruders beat a hasty retreat out through the rear of the lot. On investigation it was found that they already had forced open the window, ready to enter the house. Some time after midnight a team was heard passing over the alley in the rear of the doctor's stable, and the supposition is that the scoundrels had been waiting in the alley for at least one and a half hours before taking their departure after being frightened away from the Leh home.

Church Notice.

Communion services will be held in the Presbyterian church at York Springs, Sunday morning at 10.30 a. m.. Evening services at Great Conewago at 7 p. m. Sabbath school at 9.30 a. m.

THE LINCOLN HIGHWAY

ROOT AND HIS ANVIL CHORUS OF VULGAR SUGGESTIONS

The Usual, Commonplace Monument Idea vs the Unusual Highway Thought of Union, Peace, Etc.

Senator Root has performed for the benefit of the architects, who have already earned large prize money for designs for a Lincoln Memorial monument, and who are working for still larger commissions on a two million dollar memorial, the cheap trick of the smart advocate of giving the opposition the association of vulgar suggestions, in his declaration that the Lincoln Way would be lined with road houses and used by joy riders. This cheap trick should be worth its customary price of thirty cents. And there have been gallery gods in the press world who received Root's suggestion with car calls, etc.

It is not surprising that many minds, unprogressive, indifferent to the new can not get beyond the monument idea. A monument would perhaps be majestic as monuments have been. It might have a solemnity about it and other characteristics of the usual monument kind. But any monument would only give the usual, commonplace thought of a memorial, specially usual in a city of monuments and could never attract a distinguishing attention, and specially commonplace as without any distinction of its own.

The story of the Appian Way demonstrates the endurance of the Highway idea. A way several times longer than any road way from Washington to Gettysburg and built and finished more than twenty-two centuries ago and at the present time for a long distance after it leaves Rome forms one of the most notable memorials of antiquity in or near the eternal city bordered as it is by tombs and the ruins of monumental buildings. Long stretches of the pavement remain perfect. The Lincoln Way built by the best engineering skill of the age would give a test of use and endurance that must long survive after every other memorial would be in ruins.

A great highway memorial would have the distinction of being the unusual, and could be given a grandeur in width, approach, extent, adornment, bridges that would dwarf all other memorials. The highway would in itself typify a great thought and constantly demonstrate and illustrate that thought.

Men are getting together as never before in history. Co-operation, mutuality and reciprocity are the expressions of national thought and activity. These great words have evolved in the development of the steel rail, the telegraph, the telephone and other agencies devoted to the idea of getting together. The road will bind the nation in a better union. The word union was the one word that was ever on the tongue of the Emancipator. It will give movement to this getting together. The highway would stand for friendship, it would be a channel of peace, of plenty, of usefulness and of efficiency.

The getting together typified in the highway would be the demonstration that a nation conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal has the true elements of long endurance. It would lead the way to a spot, where in the language of the great Lincoln, is asked a dedication to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced, for the increased devotion for which they gave the last full measure of devotion, and the high resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation under God shall have a new birth of freedom—and that government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth.

This grand message of a Lincoln Way from Washington to Gettysburg would be a throbbing inspiration toward a nobler citizenship. It would be a living thought and heart beat in the life of the nation and not a dead pile of stone.

PRISON REFORM IN PENNA.

Great Plan for One Institution Run On Entirely Different Lines.

John Francis is the name of the Irishman who is making over the penal system of Pennsylvania, who proposes to give the State the long needed reform in the administration of our State penitentiaries. He is warden of the Western Penitentiary. He is an advocate of a humane system that would correct the present condition that a discharged prisoner is more often a greater menace to society than when first committed.

Two years ago while the Legislature was in session, this warden concluded that his wards were human, and that no State should consign a man or woman to an unsanitary tomb to disintegrate in mind and body. He determined that if he remained the warden of the Western Penitentiary, he would instill new blood in the veins of his charges, mend up their brains and restore them to society re-habilitated morally, mentally and physically. He made such a plea along these lines that the Legislature appropriated $200,000, with the understanding that the total amount for the purchase of 5,000 acres of land and the building of the institution should not exceed $1,250,000.

The purchase of one of the most ideal tracts of land in the State of Pennsylvania is a culmination of Mr. Francis' theory that convicts should be treated as humans. In the picturesque Nittany Valley, in Centre County, preliminary plans are being perfected for the construction of a modern prison whose architecture and interior arrangements will be worked out by the warden. The architect who will draw the plans under the guidance of the warden is John T. Windrim of Philadelphia, the designer of the Bellevue-Stratford.

Warden Francis in discussing his from the refined "flour" or "flowers" and the false view of society toward the convict, said:

"There is no greater crime than the making of a criminal by our social system, and that is the failure to save him after he is made. We hope to save him and make him a useful citizen at Bellefonte.

"In the forward march of civilization nothing has made slower progress than prisons. The ancient theory of vengeance and retribution, practiced since the early dawn of history, has in some respects changed but little. It is not hard to account for the slow progress made in prison management when the facts are considered. Very few people want anything to do with prisons; indeed, they do not like to think about them. To most people the very sight of a prison wall is obnoxious, for within it they believe may be found misery unspeakable; indeed, it seems a world to be shunned and forgotten. Consequently on the one hand the prisons are avoided as though they are a pestilence while on the other the officials are permitted to manage the institution without any great check on their actions; consequently, in many cases they have grown into petty tyrants whose sway is as absolute as that of an autocrat.

"In the business world things are measured by results. The man who embarks in trade and loses his money from year to year must decide either to change his methods or go into the hands of a receiver, yet, in the prison work, year in and year out it must be admitted that the results have been anything but satisfactory insofar as the future of the men who pass out of the institution is concerned, and yet that is the most important question, because with him society has got to reckon after he has acquired his freedom.

"From the standpoint of the man serving time it would be impossible to compute in figures how important it is that they be reformed. Eternity alone will answer that question. As to the burden imposed on the public, during the year 1908 the cost of crime in the United States was $1,373,000,000 while the national debt was at that time $964,000,000. Surely these figures are enough to make a thoughtful citizen give serious consideration to the subject. The man serving time should be made to support himself and relieve the taxpayer of an unnecessary burden.

"Pennsylvania is progressing along the right line. There has been purchased by the State in Centre County about 4000 acres of ground, to which has been added about 1000 acres of State forest reservation, on which, in accordance with an act of Assembly, there is to be erected, as far as possible by prison labor, a new penitentiary, which it is believed will eventually become practically self-sustaining. It is the intention, after the building has been completed, to teach the inmates to farm or garden which ought to improve them physically, mentally and morally. They will likewise gain a knowledge that will assist them in earning an honest livelihood after their term expires.

"Under a new dispensation, in which the management of the Western Penitentiary of Pennsylvania has been a pioneer the whole trend of treatment of convicted criminals has been in the first place to interest and reform, and then give them a chance to stay reformed. To give a man or woman a chance to live honestly after a term in prison and not brand him with an eternal mark of a convict is the new theory, and is something more than a theory; it is theology. This is the fundamental idea that will be worked out on the hills in the county which produced so many Governors of Pennsylvania.

According to present plans, several years will have elapsed before the new Western Penitentiary is completed. The institution promises to be a model institution, not only of the United States but of the whole world. It will be so designed as to permit of enlargement for housing the convicts who are now sent to the Eastern Penitentiary. The conception of the administration is to make it the one penitentiary of the State. Upon the completion of the new penitentiary the present building, near Pittsburgh, including the site and buildings, by the provision of the act, shall be sold, and the purchase money turned into the treasury of the Commonwealth.

Governor Tener estimates that nearly $900,000 could be obtained from the sale of the Eastern Penitentiary, and that this money, if used in enlarging the new Western Penitentiary, would give the State the best penal institution in the country, save the Commonwealth much money and work to the greatest good of the unfortunate. It is the plans of the administration to have such a bill offered in this Legislature and likely before the architectural drawings are completed they will be so enlarged as to include accommodations for the convicts now confined in Philadelphia.

Winter Spraying.

In a circular on Winter Spraying with special reference to controlling the San Jose scale, which has been the worst pest of the orchardists in America, State Zoologist H. A. Surface has issued from his office at Harrisburg an article containing timely information as follows:

"Seriously infested trees should be severely pruned, cutting them back in proportion to their injury, as indicated by the dead and dying limbs and the red color in the soft layer (cambium) under the bark of the twig. Spray infested trees at any time when dormant or leafless, covering them entirely from top to bottom with lime-sulfur solution, either home boiled or commercial.

Lime-sulfur solution (home boiled, concentrated). There are several variations of the formula for making the concentrated, home-boiled, lime-sulfur solution, but all give chemically the same material which is also the same as the commercial, concentrated material. One of the simplest is as follows:

In each gallon of water boil one pound of high grade calcium lime, and two pounds of finely powdered sulfur for forty-five minutes. Do not use a copper vessel. An ordinary galvanized iron wash tub, or common iron kettle, will do very well for the boiling. As good results can be obtained from the commercial ground sulfur, as from the refined "flour" or "flowers" of sulfur. After boiling let it stand overnight or strain it in a vessel that can be closed, or in an open vessel with a thin film of oil put over it to keep the air from causing it to flake at the surface. It can be made in bad weather and kept just as long as wanted, and it will be as good as the commercial preparation. When ready to spray dilute one part of this with 7 or 8 parts of water, or to a specific gravity of 1.04 to 1.03, as shown by hydrometer test. Cold water can be used for diluting and spraying, as it does not need to be heated when ready to use.

We do not any longer recommend the old 17-22-50 formula chiefly because it gives entirely too much sediment, and must be used at once. If stored, or kept until cold it crystallizes. Lime-sulfur solution (Commercial Concentrated). Many manufacturers are placing upon the market ready-made Concentrated Lime-sulfur Solutions, and these are found satisfactory and about as effective as the Home-boiled Solution if used strong enough. They should be diluted as a rule, by adding to one part of the Concentrated Mixture 7 or 8 of water, or to specific gravity, as shown by Hydrometer test, of 1.04 to 1.03.

Educational Problems.

Did you know that New York is the second largest Italian city in the world? Its Italian population numbers 632,064. Naples having 664,000. New York's Italian population outnumbers either Rome (463,000) or Milan (491,480) to the extent of 50,000 approximately.

Did you know that New York is the third largest Russian city in the world? It is exceeded in population only by St. Petersburg (1,430,000) and Moscow (1,092,000). The New York Russian group outnumbers Odessa (405,041) by approximately 300,000.

Did you know that there are only 921,313 in New York's population of 4,766,883, both of whose parents were native Americans? These figures were cited by Mr. William E. Grady, Principal of Public School No. 64, New York City, in the January number of "The Psychological Clinic" to show what a difficult educational problem that city has to solve. In Mr. Grady's own school 50 per cent. of the children were born in Europe. 75 per cent. speak a foreign language at home and 68 per cent. are studying Hebrew out of school hours. All these facts are detrimental to a mastery of English and tend to cause backwardness in school work.

Mr. Grady has calculated the retardation of all the boys in his school and computed the progress they are making—whether normal progress or faster or slower than the normal rate. He concludes that the school is doing "as well if not better than the average school in twenty-nine cities investigated by Mr. Ayres not only in preventing overage but in accelerating overage pupils so that they cover a maximum amount of work in minimum time."

Moving, Talking Plays.

At talking, moving picture plays It truly does seem queer To applaud the actor people since Of course, they cannot hear, For they who do the talking that So pleases us today, Quite likely did it months ago, And many miles away.

So what are "encore" to them, since They can't step from the reel And in a hesitating way Express the thanks they feel? For king and clown and queen and maid, Are celluloid, at most, And on their way, from town to town, Are sent by parcel post.

Of course these moving picture folk All mind their p's and q's. They could not "mix" their speeches Or forget them, did they choose? They're all rehearsed while in the shop, And polished, line by line, And since they come "right off the reel" They must be really fine.

A New Government Cook Book.

"Lessons in Cooking for the Sick and Convalescent" is the title of the latest government publication of interest to the housekeeper. This publication was prepared and printed for the use of the cooking class of the Nurses' Training School of the Government Hospital for the Insane, but the subject is of such general interest that arrangements have been made for the sale of the pamphlet by the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, at the nominal price of five cents a copy. While the recipes in this pamphlet were compiled primarily for the sick they are of interest to all persons desiring simple and wholesome dishes. The 130 recipes cover a wide range, including soups, fish, oysters, eggs, steaks, chops, salads, desserts, and beverages.

ORDINANCE.

REGULATING QUARANTINE OF CONTAGIOUS DISEASES AND RULES AND REGULATIONS CONCERNING CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

Be it ordained by the Burgess and Town Council of the Borough of Gettysburg, and it is hereby ordained by authority of the same:

Section 1. That Small Pox (variola, varioloid), Bubonic Plague, Leprosy, Typhus Fever, Yellow fever, and Cholera, shall be subjected to absolute quarantine, which shall include:

a. The prohibition of entrance to or exit from the premises by any one except officers or attendants authorized by the Board of Health.

b. The prohibition of passing out from the premises any object or material, whatsoever.

c. The absolute isolation of the patient and attendant by confinement to the minimum possible portion of the premises.

f. Provision for conveying the necessities of life to those under quarantine.

Section 2. Diphtheria, Diptheritic group, membranous croup, puritid sore throat, and Scarlet Fever (scarlatina, scarlet rash), shall be subjected to the following modified quarantine:

a. The prohibition of the entrance to or exit from the premises by any one except officers, attendants and wage-earners authorized by the Board of Health, as herein-after specified.

b. The prohibition of passing out any object or material, unless same has been thoroughly disinfected.

c. Absolute isolation of the patient and attendant, as follows:

They shall be confined to one room, or suite of rooms, to which none but necessary attendants shall have admission.

Nothing shall be passed out of the sick room that has not been thoroughly disinfected, and the attendant may leave the room, when necessary, only in the "Instructions of the Board of Health."

The entrance to the apartment shall be protected by hanging over it a sheet, kept constantly wet with a solution of bleach of mercury, according to the "Instructions of the Board of Health."

Section 3. Upon receipt of certificate, signed by the attending physician, that the absolute isolation required by Section 2 is maintained, the Sec. of Board of Health is authorized to issue to each wage-earner resident in the quarantine premises, a permit to leave and enter the premises for the purpose of following his daily occupation or other necessary objects, provided, that such permission shall not be deemed by the Board of Health to be prejudicial to the public safety, and further provided that it shall not apply to certain occupations excepted therefrom by the requirements of the State Board of Health.

Section 4. Failure to take advantage of the provisions of Section 3 shall be held automatically to make the quarantine absolute, and at any time it appears to the executive officers of the Board of Health that any of the provisions of the permit may be revoked, and the quarantine will thereby become absolute.

Section 5. Measles, Mumps and Chicken-pox shall be subjected to the following modified quarantine:

a. Modified isolation of the patient and attendant, as follows: Their confinement to one room, or suite of rooms, as for absolute isolation, but the attendant may leave the room, when necessary, after a disinfecting bath, and wearing disinfected clothing.

b. The prohibition of attendance at any public gathering—of worship, amusement or instruction—by any inmate of the quarantine premises; and the prohibition of their appearance in any private or public place except when such appearance is necessary or essential to their business, or health of the family, provided that this shall not apply to pastors of congregations if the required isolation is maintained.

d. The posting of the remaining diseases specified by the Act of Assembly, approved May 14th, 1909, the required quarantine shall consist of:

a. The prohibition of the appearance of the patient in any public place.

c. Section 7. All persons who have been exposed to the contagion of the diseases enumerated in Sections 1 and 2, and 6, shall be quarantined, to the extent of having been in the same room with the patient, are subject to such of the foregoing restrictions as may be imposed by the officers of the Board of Health.

Section 8. When absolute quarantine has been imposed, and the head of the household has notified the Board of Health through the attending physician, or the Health Officer, that he is in need of assistance, and when he shall have made oath to the Secretary of the Board of Health that he is unable to secure medical aid, and if he is unable to secure medical aid, it shall be supplied by the Board of Health.

Section 9. The funerals of persons dead from the diseases mentioned in Sections 1 and 2 of these Regulations, shall take place within twenty-four (24) hours of death.

Section 10. The period of exclusion from school of inmates of premises quarantined for diphtheria, shall continue for a period of fourteen days from the date of the removal of the patient, provided that, if antitoxin has been used in the treatment of the disease, it shall terminate twenty-one days from the onset of the disease in the person last so afflicted.

Section 11. Every individual afflicted with any of the diseases mentioned in Sections 1, 2 and 5 of these Regulations, shall, before being reported to the Board of Health, be required to receive a disinfecting bath, according to the "Instructions of the Board of Health."

Section 12. It shall be the duty of the occupants of any premises in which the diseases mentioned in Sections 1 and 2 of these Regulations, to prepare the apartments occupied by the sick for disinfection, in accordance with the "Instructions of the Board of Health," when directed so to do by the Health Officer.

Section 13. It shall be the duty of the occupants of the premises in which the diseases mentioned in Section 5 of these Regulations have existed, within twenty-four hours of the removal of the sick, in accordance with the "Instructions of the Board of Health," immediately after the person or persons so afflicted have been reported to the Board of Health as convalescent.

Ordained this 27th day of January, 1913. HARRY S. TROSTLE, Pres.

Attest: C. B. RITZMILLER, Sec. Approved this 28th day of Jan., 1913. J. A. HOLTZWORTH, Burgess.

THE DEATH LIST OF WEEK

MISS VINNIE WEIRICK OF GETTYSBURG PASSES AWAY.

Ignatius Poist of McSherrystown Is Overcome at Work and Dies the Same Day.

Miss LAVINA C. WEIRICK died on last Thursday at her home on Breckenridge street, this place, aged 65 years, 8 months and 18 days. She was born in Gettysburg, a daughter of John and Cotilda Weirick. She had been in failing health during the past year and for the last three or four months has not been able to leave her room. She was educated at the private school of Miss Carrie Sheads on Chambersburg pike and was attending this school in July 1863 and was among the crowd of girls who were compelled to flee to town before the battle started. She had vivid recollections of that event and of the battle days and the girls singing when the First Corps went through the town on the way to battle on the First Day. A number of interesting sketches of her experiences have been published in the COMPILER. The funeral was held on Monday morning, services being conducted in St. Francis Xavier Church by Rev. Fr. Boyle with a mass of requiem. She had been a devout member of the Church since she was a girl. She is survived by a brother and two sisters, Charles and Miss Lizzie Weirick of this place, and Mrs. Ada E. Magee of Elmira, N. Y.

IGNATIUS POIST, a well known and highly respected citizen of McSherrystown, died suddenly at his late home, from acute indigestion and a stroke of paralysis. Sunday, Jan. 19, aged 58 years, 1 month and 4 days. Mr. Poist was a member of the firm of J. A. Poist Co., cigar manufacturers and went to the factory Saturday morning about 7 o'clock, as was his custom, after eating a hearty breakfast, and about an hour later he was seized with an attack of indigestion and dropped to the floor in a semi-conscious condition. Dr. A. C. Rice was summoned, and after preliminary treatment Mr. Poist recovered consciousness and walked from the factory to a carriage, which conveyed him to his home. He rested comfortably during the day and seemed to be recovering from the effects of his illness. However, about 11 o'clock Saturday night, he was stricken with paralysis. Dr. Rice was recalled and remained with him until death ensued. He was a son of the late James and Susan Poist of Mt Pleasant township, and he was married to Miss Rosa Sneeringer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sneeringer. Mr. Poist was formerly a miller, but moved to McSherrystown about 33 years ago, being associated with his brother, the late John A. Poist, in the cigar manufacturing business. He served several terms in the Borough Council and was active in every public enterprise. He was a member of the Catholic Beneficial Legion and the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church. He is survived by a widow, one son Harry Poist, and two daughters, Misses Helen and Bernardina Poist, at home. Also by three brothers, William, James and Harry Poist, of McSherrystown. Funeral Wednesday, Jan. 22, high mass of requiem at 9 a. m. in St. Mary's Church. Rev. L. Aug. Reudter officiating. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. CATHERINE Fink, wife of Emanuel Fink, died at her home in Littlestown on Jan. 20th after a painful illness from torcolitis lasting 15 weeks. She was born near White Hall, this county, and was aged at the time of her death 66 years, 4 months and 9 days. Her maiden name was Catherine Snyder. About 25 years ago they moved from this county to Maryland, and seven years ago they moved from Taneytown to Littlestown. Surviving her is her husband, and the following children: Mrs. Harry Hawk of Hanover, Mrs. Chas. Crebs of Taneytown, Mrs. Jesse Frock of Keyman, Mrs. Geo. S. Stover of Littlestown, Wm. Fink of New Oxford, Arkansas Fink of Taneytown, Charles Fink of Keyman, and Claude Fink of South Dakota. Also the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. James Weaver, near Hanover, Mrs. Rufus Sponseller, Golden's Station, Josiah Snyder, York, Charles of near Yoost's Store, Samuel of Mt. Pleasant township, and Amos Snyder of Mt. Joy township. Twenty-eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild survive.

Mrs. ELIZABETH HETRICK, widow of Harry Hetrick of Heidelberg township, York county, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Bollinger, at Porters, Monday night, Jan. 20, from pneumonia, after an illness of three days. She was the oldest resident in that section, being 92 years of age. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Keener, who lived near Seven Valleys, York County, and is survived by four sons and two daughters, as follows: Henry Hetrick, Mrs. Amanda Bollinger and Mrs. David Hoff of Heidelberg township, Spangler and Frank Hetrick of near New Oxford, and Edward K. Hetrick of Hanover. Funeral last Thursday, at 2 p. m., services and interment at St. Paul's (Dabbs) church, Manheim township, York county. Rev. D. H. Baker and Rev. J. H. Hartman of Hanover, officiating.

Mrs. EMMA COULSON, wife of Jacob F. Coulson, died at her home in Carlisle last Thursday morning of a complication of diseases, aged 50 years. She had been ill for three months. Mrs. Coulson was an estimable woman. The family moved to Carlisle from Harrisburg more than four years ago, but were originally from Adams county. Mrs. Coulson belonged to the Lutheran Church at Chestnut Grove, this county. Besides her husband she is survived by three daughters, Myrtle, Elida and Verna and also by two brothers and two sisters, John Sheaffer of Mt. Holly Springs, George of York Springs, Mrs. George Johnson of Mechanicsburg, and Mrs. Isaac Prosser of Harrisburg. Brief funeral services were held Sunday morning. The remains were taken to Chestnut Grove Church, this county, where further services were held and interment made.

CHAS. S. ZECK of Emmitsburg, died Sunday, Jan. 19, in his 69th year. He was born near Emmitsburg and spent his life there. He served in the Civil War a veteran of the Union Army and was twice enlisted, and fought in the battle of Monocacy Junction and saw other active service. He was a blacksmith by trade and conducted the business in Emmitsburg until seven years ago when he was stricken with a stroke and has been an invalid ever since. Mr. Zeck is survived by a widow who was Miss Maria Gelwicks, two sons, Edgar D. and C. Clarence, of Philadelphia, and two sisters, Miss Julia A. Zeck and Mrs. M. F. Shuff, both of Emmitsburg. His daughter, Mrs. Henry Mitchell died in Pasadena, Cal., about a year ago. The funeral services were held in the Lutheran Church on last Wednesday afternoon conducted by Rev. Charles Reinwald. Interment in the Lutheran cemetery.

JOHN EARL FOWLER, son of ex-Register and Recorder W. H. Fowler and wife, died at their home in Martinsburg, W. Va., Wednesday afternoon, January 8th, of Bright's disease, after a long illness. Besides his parents he is survived by one brother, Lee G., of Martinsburg; three sisters, Mrs. Allen Sheely of New Oxford, Mrs. Ivan Boyd and Miss Anna Belle, of Martinsburg. Mr. Fowler was 19 years of age and moved to Martinsburg about four years ago with his parents from Fairfield. He was employed in the Kilbourn Mills until ill health compelled him to quit work. He was a member of the City Band and was a favorite with those who knew him. The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 11, in Christ Reformed Church, the service being conducted by his pastor, Rev. A. M. Gluck, assisted by Rev. E. W. Stonebraker of Quarryville, Pa. The City Band played a funeral dirge from the house to the church and then from the church to the cemetery. The floral tributes were profuse and beautiful while the attendance at the funeral was very large.

MISS MARY ELLEN SPAHR, aged 54 years, died at the York Hospital last week after a year's sickness of cancer of the stomach. She was a patient at the hospital three weeks. Miss Spahr was blind for more than 12 years. At the age of 12 years she had a cataract on both eyes and her sight began to fail. A few years later she was struck in one of her eyes by a snow ball and this aggravated the trouble. The body was taken to the residence of Henry Trimmer, her uncle, with whom she lived the past three years. The survivors are John Spahr, her father, East Berlin, a brother, C. M. Spahr of York, and two sisters, Miss Emma Spahr of New Oxford, and Mrs. Edward Shaffer of East Berlin. Funeral was held last Thursday, interment at the Holtzswam Church, Paradise township, York Co.

Mrs. MARY ISABELLA COLLIFLOWER, wife of John T. Colliflower, died at Graceham, Frederick county, Md., after an illness of two weeks, at age of 71 years, 6 months and 1 day. She leaves one daughter and four sons, among latter Joseph Colliflower, a resident of Gettysburg for many years, now living in Ohio.

CHARLES HENRY MILLER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Miller, residing on the Seminary farm, Berwick township, this county, died at 4 p. m., Thursday, Jan. 23, from pneumonia, aged 8 years, 6 months and 21 days. Deceased is survived by his parents, two brothers and one sister. Funeral on Monday, January 27, brief services at the house at 9 a. m., further services and interment at Bair's Meeting House, Rev. Dr. Lau and Rev. S. A. Diehl officiating.

HADLEY L. HARTZELL, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hartzell, of Cumberland township, died last Tuesday noon from peritonitis, aged two years six months. Funeral on Thursday morning. Interment at Fiohrs Church.

COL. Wm. Wolf died Friday, Jan. 17, in Baltimore in his 83rd year. He was a native of Hanover and for years engaged in the manufacture of the "Hanover Buck Gloves." About five years ago they moved to Baltimore, spending their summers at East Berlin and New Oxford, the Colonel spending his time fishing in the Conecago. He was an ardent Democrat. Interment was made in the Hanover cemetery.

JOHN U. RUFF, an estimable and prominent citizen of New Oxford, died at his home last Friday, Jan. 24, after an illness of several months from Bright's disease and heart trouble. His age was about 69 years. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ruff, late of Hamilton township, and is survived by two sons and one daughter, Dr. William F. Ruff, Philadelphia, Clarence A. Ruff, New Oxford, and Mrs. Daniel Menges, of Reading township. He is also survived by three sisters and one brother, Prof. Daniel Ruff of New Oxford, Mrs. D. H. Ditzler and Mrs. Emma King of Hanover, and Mrs. Joseph Krumrine of Littlestown. He was identified with different business interests of New Oxford, and was a director of the Hanover Saving Fund Society for a number of years. He was a member of St. Paul's Reformed Church, and took an active part in the building of the new Church by that congregation during the past summer. He was in politics a Democrat and served a term as county auditor of Adams county in 1872; served as a member of the New Oxford Town Council and held other local offices. Funeral Monday, Jan. 27, services by Rev. Dr. W. A. Korn, interment in the New Oxford cemetery.

Mrs. MARY M. BOLLINGER, widow of Jacob Bollinger, long since deceased, following an illness from complications died Monday evening, Jan. 20, at her home in Chester Hill, where she has resided for the past 23 years according to "The Daily Journal" of Philadelphia, Pa. The deceased was born at Gettysburg on June 4, 1844, making her age 68 years, 7 months and 16 days. She was a lady of quiet, unassuming disposition, whose life was largely devoted to her children and friends, to whom her death will come as a great shock and heavy loss. Surviving are two sons and two daughters, namely, Rose, wife of Joseph Files, of Birmingham Ala., Virgie, wife of John Buzzard of Chester Hill, and George and William Bollinger of Juniata, Pa.

She also leaves one brother, John M. Reiling of Philadelphia, and one sister, Mrs. Annie R., wife of A. R. Feistel, of York, Pa. The funeral took place last Thursday.

Mrs. CAROLINE M. STEM wife of James P. Stem died very suddenly at her home at the toll gate between Fountaindale and Charnian early last Thursday morning of heart trouble at the age of 72 years, 6 months and 9 days. She is survived by her husband and one son, Frank Stem of Hamilton township and one daughter, Miss Laura at home. Funeral was held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with services in St. Jacobs Reformed Church, Liberty township, Rev. M. L. Firor officiating. Interment in Cemetery adjoining the church. The pall bearers were Lewis Pittinger, Daniel S. Frey, Edw. W. Mickley, Daniel C. Eyer, John T. Barton and Calvin T. Mills.

Adams County Apples Win.

When a fruit grower of Luzeren county, Pennsylvania, sent a box of apples to President Taft as a Christmas gift, they were declared without qualification to be the finest apples grown in the world. In the discussion that followed it was conceded that the Pennsylvania apple was the very best apple in the world for its superior qualities of size, color and flavor, but recent events are the proof that to Adams county belongs the distinction of growing the finest and best Pennsylvania apples, the very best apple in the whole world.

According to the result of the Fruit Show and Fifty-fourth Annual Convention of the State Horticultural Association of Pennsylvania, held in Harrisburg on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week, the prize cup was carried off by Adams county for the best county exhibit. The fact is the county association winning the cup must do so at three successive annual meetings to become its permanent owner. The cup had been won at two successive shows by the Fruit Growers' Association of Adams County and it had to be won this year to become the permanent property of the Association. The judges awarded the cup for the third time to the Adams County Association and thus is demonstrated the proof that Adams county is growing the best apple in Pennsylvania and of the world. Second place was given to the Perry County Fruit Growers' Association.

The individual winnings of apple prizes were as numerous by Adams county fruit growers as by all the rest of the State.

In class 1 for the best barrel of apples any variety, carrying a first prize of 50 peach trees and second prize of $5 Spramotor goods, H. M. Keller of Gettysburg R. 5 took second place for York Imperial and George P. Myers of Biglerville first place for York Stripe.

In class 4 for the best exhibition of one box of 27 different varieties and carrying premiums for each variety of 1st $4, and 2nd $2, the following awards were made: Stayman Winesap, first Tyson Bros., Florida; second, Eli T. Garretson, Biglerville; York Stripe, first Tyson Bros.; Smokehouse, first, Tyson Bros.; York Imperial, first, Eli T. Garretson; Grimes Golden, Tyson Bros.

Class 5, for the best single box any variety not mentioned in Class 4, Eli T. Garretson was given first award for Paragon, carry $5 of Spramotor goods.

Class 6, for the best collection of five boxes of any one of 6 different varieties, first award went to Tyson Bros. for Stayman and Grimes Golden, carrying prizes for each of 100 York Imperial apple trees valued at $25.

Class 7 for the best collection of five boxes of any one of 8 varieties with first prize of 70 C barrel pump, Tyson Bros. were given first award on York Imperial.

Class 8, for the best five boxes of apples any one variety, there was no first award, second going to Tyson Bros. for Stayman Winesap and carrying 50 first-class apple trees.

Class 9, for the best exhibit of three boxes of apples of any three varieties, with first prize of $15 worth of apple trees went to Tyson Bros. for York Stripe, Stayman and Grimes Golden.

Class 10, for the best plate of five specimens carrying first award of $1 and second 50 cts., Stayman Winesap first, Tyson Bros.; Weatherby, no first, second Miss Katherine Large, Orrtanna; Winter Rambo first, Tyson Bros.; York Imperial first, Miss Katherine Large, second Tyson Bros.; Grimes Golden second Tyson Bros.; Summer Rambo, first Miss Katherine Large, second Tyson Bros.; York Stripe, first Rice Bros.; Smokehouse, first Rice Bros.

Class 11, for the best collection of five plates of any one variety, first to Tyson Bros., carrying a prize of 25 Stayman trees.

Class 12, for the best collection of five plates, carrying 25 York Imperial apple trees as first prize and second $2.50, was won on York Imperial and Stripe first by Tyson Bros., and second by George P. Myers.

Class 13, for best collection of pears, with first prize of "Auto Spray" was won by Miss Katherine Large with Clairdean and Howell pears.

Class 14, for the largest number of name varieties, 5 specimens each, first, E. P. Garretson with prize of 100 peach trees.

Class 15, Mrs. R. M. Eldon of Aspers took second prize for black walnuts, with premium of $1.00.

Class 21, for the best collection from the home orchard, size and attractiveness of display, quality of fruit and range of varieties, second award with a set of Reiter bolster springs to fit any farm wagon, was won by Tyson Bros.

GEN. WAGNER SHOULD RESIGN.

General Louis Wagner, chairman of the 50th Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission, demonstrated in a most disagreeable way last week his total unfitness both to be a member of the Commission and to preside over its sessions. He was not equal to the courtesies of his position. He showed inability to control and to solve important questions. He exhibited a bias and prejudice against the people of Gettysburg that prevent him from doing what is fair and just to the town. Governor Tener owes it to the success of the celebration; owes it to all the difficulties to prepare for the celebration and owes it to the fair name of Gettysburg to ask General Wagner for his resignation as a member of the Commission. His resignation would do more than any one thing to make things go forward smoothly. General Wagner last week insulted Gettysburg and her people by declaring that they were neither patriotic nor progressive enough to sacrifice a little to make the celebration a success. The sacrifice in mind was to the whims and prejudices of an autocratic chairman. He made some similar assertion at the State G. A. R. encampment last summer, showing that he has allowed a prejudice to so possess him as to make it impossible to do the fair and right thing so far as Gettysburg is concerned.

His assertions about Gettysburg are damnable calumny. No community in the State during the Civil War was more patriotic in the number of sons according to population, that went to the defense of the country. There is no community in the whole State that suffered as severely with actual warfare within and around her, in humane service after the battle and in the hospitals all her people gave liberally and patriotically. This community has outdone itself again and again as the host in extending hospitality to veterans and visitors so that organizations vote again and again to return here. Ever since this celebration began Gettysburg has been foremost in promoting it and it is possible because her citizens did not wait to be asked for suggestions that they are now assaulted with declarations of being unpatriotic. In the face of such declaration his presence on the Commission is an affront to the citizenship of this community, and he should be made to pay the price of bad temper, and his inclination to do and say the impolite and discourteous thing whenever Gettysburg is mentioned. It is possible for a man in his attitude of mind to do some irreparable injury to this community and his resignation would place him where he would be harmless.

There are other reasons why Governor Tener should ask General Wagner to step down and out. General Wagner has been more or less responsible for the resignations of Captain Boyle and Major Benson. These two members were deeply interested in the celebration and deeply conscious of the duties of their position and were capable of rendering efficient service to the success of the celebration. Captain Boyle was the secretary and both had to do their work under the impossible domination of the autocratic chairman, who made it unpleasant for any member to have any ideas that ran counter to his or to do anything without his sanction and at all times subject to his impolite and discourteous outbursts. It is a fact of singular significance that the two members of the Commission most in touch with General Wagner, both of his city, could not stand him longer, were unwilling to be associated with him and his methods and dropped out.

According to the information that has leaked out from the session at Gettysburg, the following is a typical exhibition of the chairman's methods. A member desired to express himself on a subject and was interrupted and badgered by General Wagner until he had to turn upon him and tell him he was going to have his say in spite of interruptions and he should let him alone. This incident was given as characteristic of his methods, badgering his associates into doing or saying nothing or having to have a fight with the chairman to get a hearing. He is not doing the work that should be done and is not letting the others do it.

At the meeting at Gettysburg, it has further leaked out, that after Governor Tener arrived Chairman Wagner grew somewhat petulant over some self-obsession and finally blurted out that if desired he would resign. He evidently thought the suggestion would stop the wheels of time but as time ticked on and Governor Tener said nothing there must have been a reconsideration about the resignation. Governor Tener however would perform a simple act of justice to the celebration and its success and to Gettysburg if he would simply insist upon General Wagner making good as to his threat to resign.

General Wagner has been a costly appendage to the Commission. One of the reasons for the Congressional Commission demanding $150,000 of the Pennsylvania appropriation for the physical preparations was that General Wagner had the money and had done nothing and this punishment was laid out notwithstanding congressional action repressed themselves that the nation should bear the whole burden of the physical preparation and not make one of the 18 States share it with the general government, but the excuse to so punish the State of Pennsylvania was the attitude of the chairman of the commission. Every penny of this money that is used by Uncle Sam for physical preparations in effect will come off the transportation to be accorded the Pennsylvania veterans, the ones that deserve to be at Gettysburg in July as abundantly as those from any other State will pay a very dear price for the retention of an autocratic chairman. His resignation accompanied with an appeal to Congress should result in the general government assuming the entire burden of physical preparations and give the Pennsylvania veterans the $150,000 that was diverted from transportation purposes.

MARRIAGES.

WEAVER—ORNDORFF.—A pretty wedding took place at St. Joseph's Church Tuesday morning of last week. The contracting parties were Miss Helen Orndorff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Orndorff, and William Weaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Weaver. ## Hood's Sarsaparilla

Acts directly and peculiarly on the blood; purifies, enriches and revitalizes it, and in this way builds up the whole system. Take it. Get it today. In usual liquid form or in the little round tablets called Sarsatabs.
